

"My best win," says Hamilton at Circuit of The Americas™

Title fight continues to Brazil with Vettel, Alonso on Austin podium

AUSTIN, Texas (Nov. 18, 2012) – Lewis Hamilton produced one of his finest performances to win the inaugural United States Grand Prix for McLaren Mercedes at the Circuit of The Americas™.

Hamilton passed polewinner Sebastian Vettel's Red Bull on lap 42 of 56 with a clean move at the end of the DRS zone into Turn 12 to claim his fourth win of 2012 and the 21st of his Formula 1 career.

"That was my best win, guys!" yelled a delighted Hamilton to his pit crew, whom he leaves at the end of this season. "That was wicked!"

With Vettel second, the title fight continues to the last race in Brazil as Fernando Alonso's Ferrari again fought through the field for the final podium position.

Alonso started seventh after teammate Felipe Massa took a late five-place penalty but the Spaniard rocketed through to fourth by the end of the opening lap.

Vettel now leads by 13 points with 25 more on offer next Sunday.

In a clean, absorbing race there were only two retirements. The first was Jean-Eric Vergne in the Toro Rosso, the second was Vettel's Red Bull teammate Mark Webber. The Australian was running third when he fell victim to another apparent alternator failure, a gremlin that has plagued the Renault-engined team this season.

Despite that, Vettel's 18 points mean Red Bull have clinched their third straight constructors' title.

About Circuit of The Americas

Circuit of The Americas is a world-class destination for performance, education and business. It is the first purpose-built Grand Prix facility in the United States designed for any and all classes of racing, from motor power to human power, and is home to the 2012 FORMULA 1 UNITED STATES GRAND PRIX™. Racing series joining the Circuit's 2013 line-up include MotoGP™, V8 Supercars™ and GRAND-AM Road Racing™. The Circuit of The Americas' master plan features a variety of permanent structures designed for business, education, entertainment and race use. Its signature element is a 3.4-mile circuit track. Other support buildings include an expansive outdoor live music space, an iconic 251-foot tower with observation deck, an events and conference center, a banquet hall as well as a state-of-the-art medical facility. For more information and downloadable video, audio and photos, visit: www.CircuitofTheAmericas.com.